

WHERE WAS JONES?

On Wednesday the silver fight opened in the Senate. It was announced weeks before that Jones would open the fight in person and lead the silver cohorts against the entrenchments of Wall street. When the bill was called, Senator Stewart rose and asked a postponement on account of the absence of Jones.

Up to the present writing the people of Nevada have not been furnished with any explanation of the lack of Jones' presence at the head of his men.

The situation is one of the gravest importance to the people of this State, and they should know the cause of the trouble.

The APPEAL regrets to be compelled to call attention to this fact, and hopes soon to hear that sickness rendered the Senator's absence unavoidable. If it was sickness, the indisposition ought to have been of such a character as to confine him to his bed.

No one in all the nation is better equipped than he to lead the fight, and with his powerful Senatorial colleague with him there ought to be no such word as fail.

It certainly does not inspire the army with courage to see the Lieutenant making excuses for the General on the morning of battle.

The APPEAL sincerely hopes that it will not again be compelled to record an instance of this kind.

STATE EXTRAVAGANCE

The Reno Gazette is in an economical mood and talks in the following strain.

It is quite evident that Nevada will have to come down from her high-pressure perch and economize in her governmental affairs. It is the height of absurdity for her to maintain a government sufficient to govern two million people when she has less than sixty thousand. Three good clerks would do all the business transacted in the State Capitol outside of the Surveyor-General's office and do it easily. The Legislature should be cut down to forty members and called once in four years instead of two. Our judiciary needs pulling up, root and branch, and remodeled to suit our condition. The trouble is now we are too much governed, and the sooner we realize the fact and take steps to curtail our expenses, the better off we shall be. Our constitution was adopted when twenty-dollars pieces were as plentiful as short bits are now, and when money was looked upon as hardly worth picking up, and the result was a Governor with a private secretary with nothing to do; a Lieutenant-Governor, which, by the way, is of no more use than a wagon with five wheels; a Controller, with one or two deputies; a State Treasurer with a deputy, who does all the work of his principal; a Secretary of State with another fifth wheel attached to his office, with nothing for either one to do; a Surveyor-General with an office full of clerks; an Attorney-General with nothing to do but draw his salary; a Clerk of the Supreme Court with absolutely no duties to perform; and lastly the Supreme Judges, who have not had a chance to hardly warm the bench for two years, and the sooner we top off a few of these luxuries the wiser we shall be.

A COOL PROCEEDING.—An agent of the Louisiana Lottery Company caused the arrest of J. J. Jacobs, President of the Montana Lottery Company and it was telegraphed all over the country.

Jacobs has a charter from the Legislature and was released. The Louisiana Company seems determined that nobody shall run a lottery but themselves.

HIGH WATER.—Walker river is running bank full and there is danger of the county bridge going out. It is also feared that the C. & O. railroad bridge at Mason Station may go out unless the water lowers soon. Men are watching the bridge to keep drift wood from lodging against it.

The jury in the case of George C. Pratt, charged with an assault to murder for shooting L. L. Bromwell, President of the California Insurance Company, last January, returned a verdict of not guilty.
